

COHO

The goal at COHO has always been to make balanced, supple wines that reflect the rich, nuanced fruit and crisp acidity that are the hallmark characteristics of the cooler climate vineyards of Napa Valley. Our 2016 Napa Valley Cabernet Sauvignon goes a long way towards achieving that goal.

The majority of the Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot in this wine was grown on the prestigious Sugarloaf East Vineyard on a hillside southeast of downtown Napa. The Petit Verdot and the remaining Cabernet Sauvignon are from two small family run vineyards in Coombsville. These fog cooled sites instill aromas of anise, dark berries, and sweet peas into the intriguing nose. Entry to the vibrant palate is noted by rich plum, cassis, and licorice flavors, supported by silky tannins.
